"We have been extremely impressed with the speed of response. There is always someone knowledgeable available at the end of the telephone or to visit when you need technical advice. The spare parts are of a high quality and they arrive when they say they will arrive."

Offshore oil producer

"We were faced with the prospect of replacing a number of Girdlestone pumps that had been oversized for their duty. Amarithh came to the rescue when they advised a simple modification that meant we could start the plant that day rather than wait twelve weeks for alternative pumps. The result was that a multi million pound project was completed on time".
