WOODBRIIDGE, UK — Amarith will supply pumps for Azule Energy's FPSO Agogo offshore Angola, currently under construction by Yinson Production.

The order was the second from an unnamed Norwegian client.

The FPSO, due to start operations in late 2025 as part of the Agogo integrated west hub development, will be connected to 36 production and injection wells.

Amarinth's design is adapted to accommodate the confined headroom aboard FPSOs. The Agogo pumps will also be compliant with the NORSOK M-630 standard for petrochemical applications, particularly in offshore environments.
